

Do not make regulatory changes. The airwaves are concentrated too much by big business now. It is one of the last places for a free and independent press. Big corporate media is not interested in keeping the airwaves free.